oak wood high school

Oakwood High School began as an extension of the Harman Avenue School. Upon completion of grade eight, students once had to commute to numerous downtown Dayton schools. Finally in 1921, ten acres of land acquired in three purchases were bought for the express purpose of building a high school. By 1923, a $450,000 building had been erected in the English residential style. Here was a structure designed to fit the town planners' belief that all Oakwood's buildings should "reflect the characteristics of a beauty-loving homeowning community."

The school soon became a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Two early faculty members achieved the rank of college board examiners. The reputation of Oakwood schools soon attracted attention of parents beyond the city's boundaries. By 1929, 105 tuition students, whose parents paid $13,000 for their education, attended Oakwood. This extra enrollment burdened the already-crowded schools, and the policy of accepting tuition students was discontinued. In one decade, population of the school had grown tremendously. It had leapt from 197 students in 1921 to 1,288 in 1931. The need for more facilities was recognized by many, and in 1930 citizens approved further bond issues to add a junior high onto the original building. Then in 1936, the next large project — a stadium — was set.

The sentiments of many were summed up in this statement made by A.E. Claggett, first principal of Oakwood:

"Think what it means! A fine new building, distinct in architecture, with modern equipment in Science, Manual Training, Home Economics, Arts and Crafts, Gymnasium, etc., a wide expanse of yard with shade trees and lawn, an athletic field adjoining the rear of the building, and all the things that go to make school life desirable. What a privilege it will be to attend a school with college preparatory courses like those of the best "prep" schools organized to meet college board examinations with added courses in art, commercial, technical, and industrial. And, also, be able to do this right at our own homes where we may have the guidance, the interest, and the attendance of our own parents who have proved by their provision for us that they have an educational zeal that cannot be excelled anywhere."

Another quote that proves quite interesting lists definite things accomplished during the year 1922-1923. Several of these are:

"Good, earnest solid work."

"Loyalty and pride on the part of the pupils toward their school."

"Junior high school organization meaning more expert teaching and better adaptation of the school work to the needs of the pupil."

"A creditable school newspaper."

"New departments of manual training, printing, cooking."

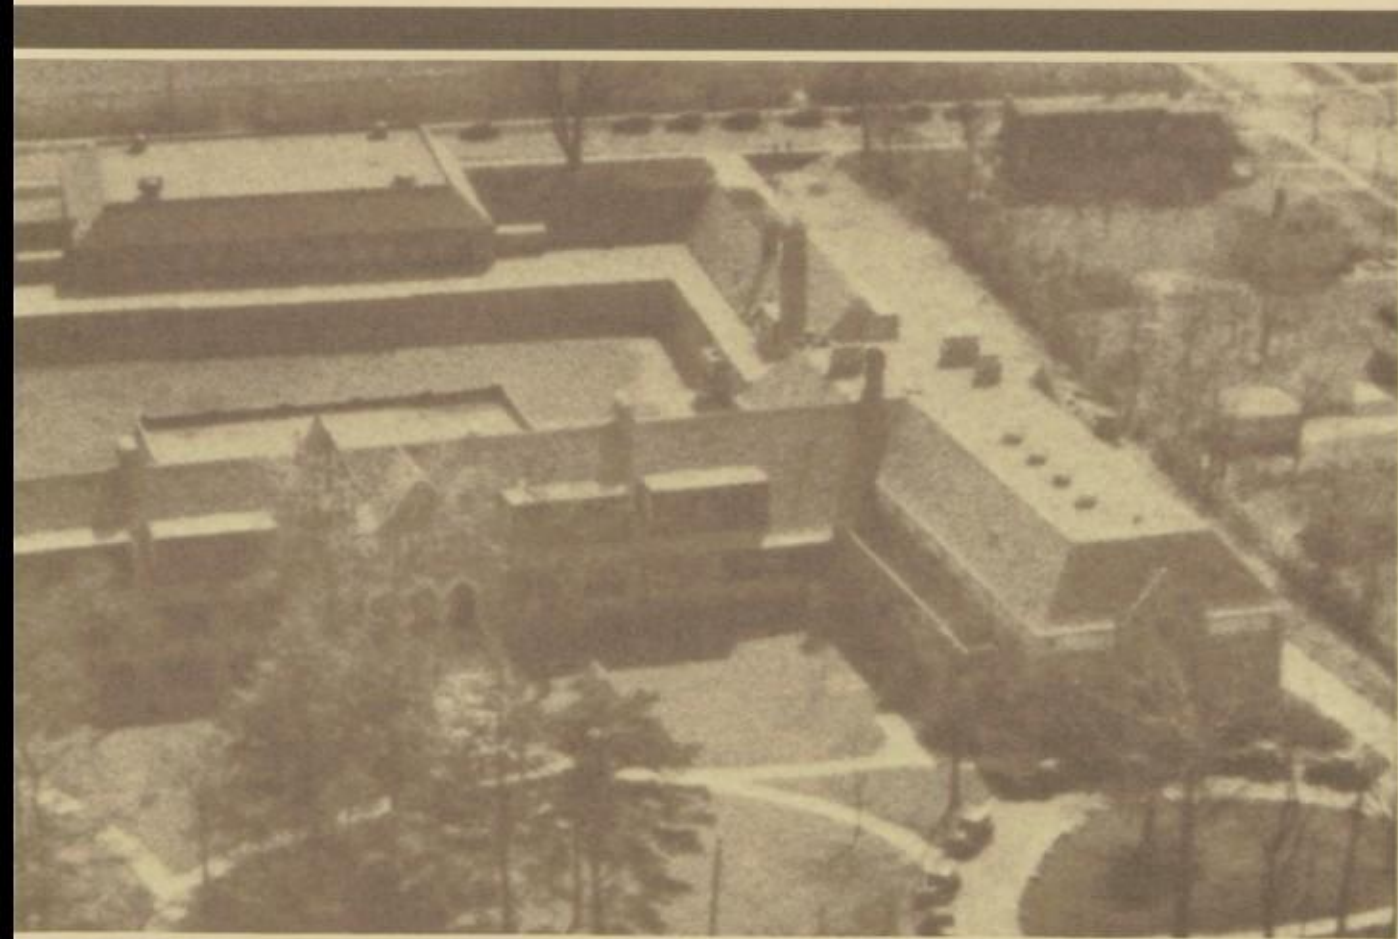

"Cafeteria for convenience of pupils who wish to stay at noon."

"Five literary societies, an Art Club, a Music Club, an Astronomy Club were organized, giving the pupils a great amount of training in public speaking, dramatic and musical presentation, and the like."

"Physical education and athletics engaged in by all pupils, both girls and boys. Numerous inter-class games in the major school sports, also games with other schools. Athletic associations of over two hundred members to promote athletics. Small monthly dues paid by all of these in order to purchase material."

"Grounds beautified by planting by the different classes. Each class planted a tree, a clump of shrubs and an ivy."

"School reference library enlarged by addition of over one hundred books."

Through the years, a science wing, then freshman hall have been constructed to accomodate Oakwood's growth. Numerous remodelings also have altered the school in many ways. The sophomore, senior, and junior high halls; all have been enlarged for the growing population and changing demands of Oakwood's student body.

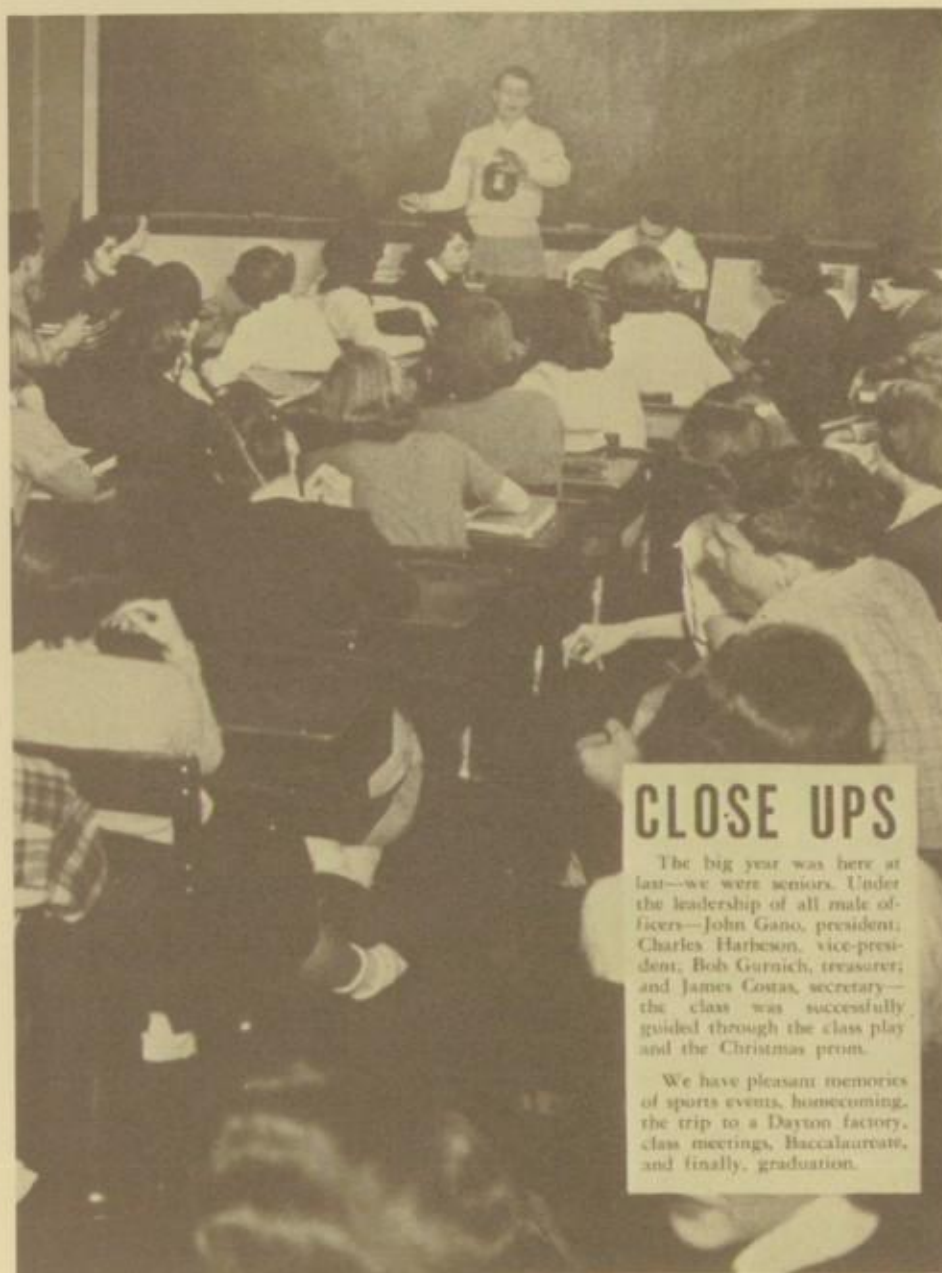

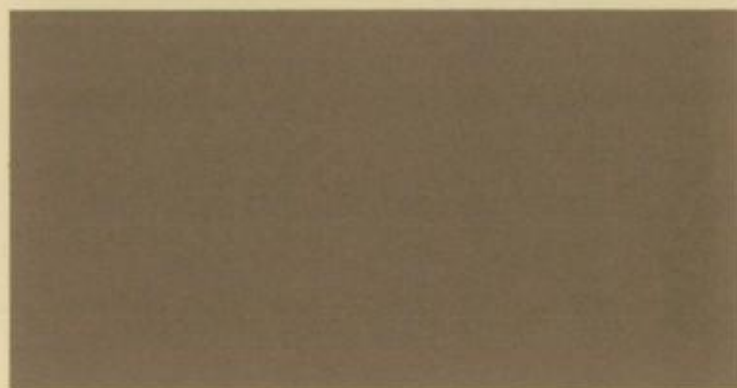

While experiencing many outward changes, Oakwood has revamped in various ways inwardly too. Study hall, one of the biggest of these changes once was held in the auditorium. But no matter how many changes the school itself experiences, the students themselves have remained basically the same.

"The interest in the school has been remarkable. In making a trip through the school late one afternoon about 4:45 I found one group of pupils at work in the printing room, another group doing some wood work in manual training, still another group practicing for a play, two teams were playing in the gymnasium, and one pupil has stayed to learn to operate the typewriter in the office. All done because of interest."

— quote from 1923 ACORN

CLOSE UPS

The big year was here at last—we were seniors. Under the leadership of all male officers—John Gano, president; Charles Harbeson, vice-president; Bob Gurnick, treasurer; and James Gostas, secretary—the class was successfully guided through the class play and the Christmas prom.

We have pleasant memories of sports events, homecoming, the trip to a Dayton factory, class meetings, Baccalaureate, and finally, graduation.

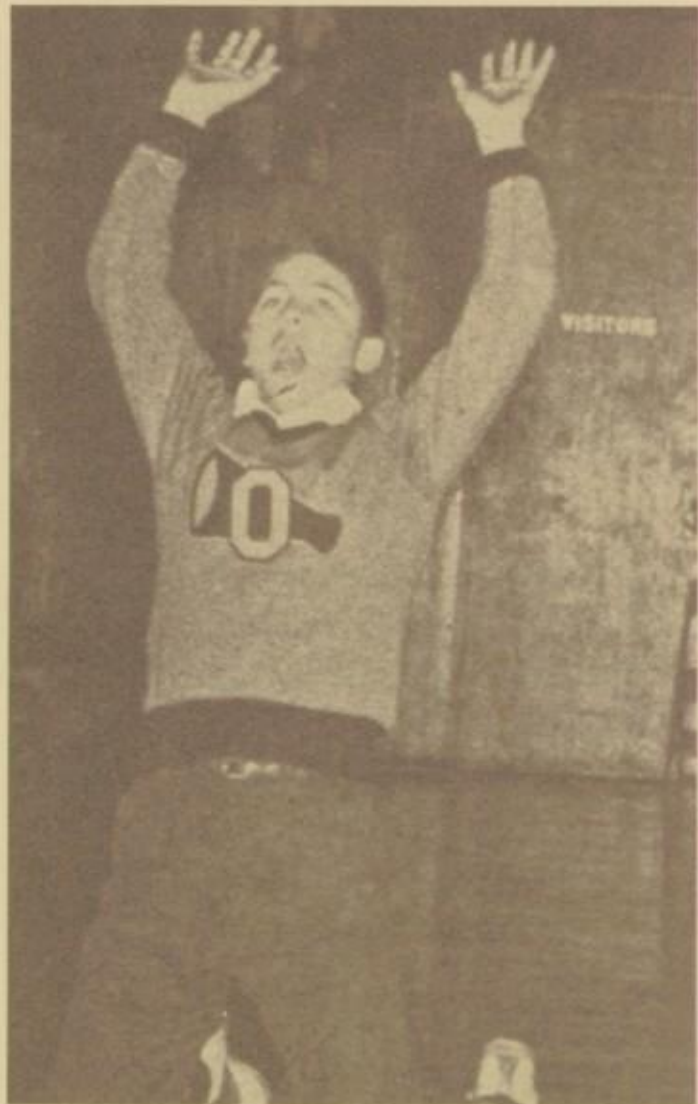

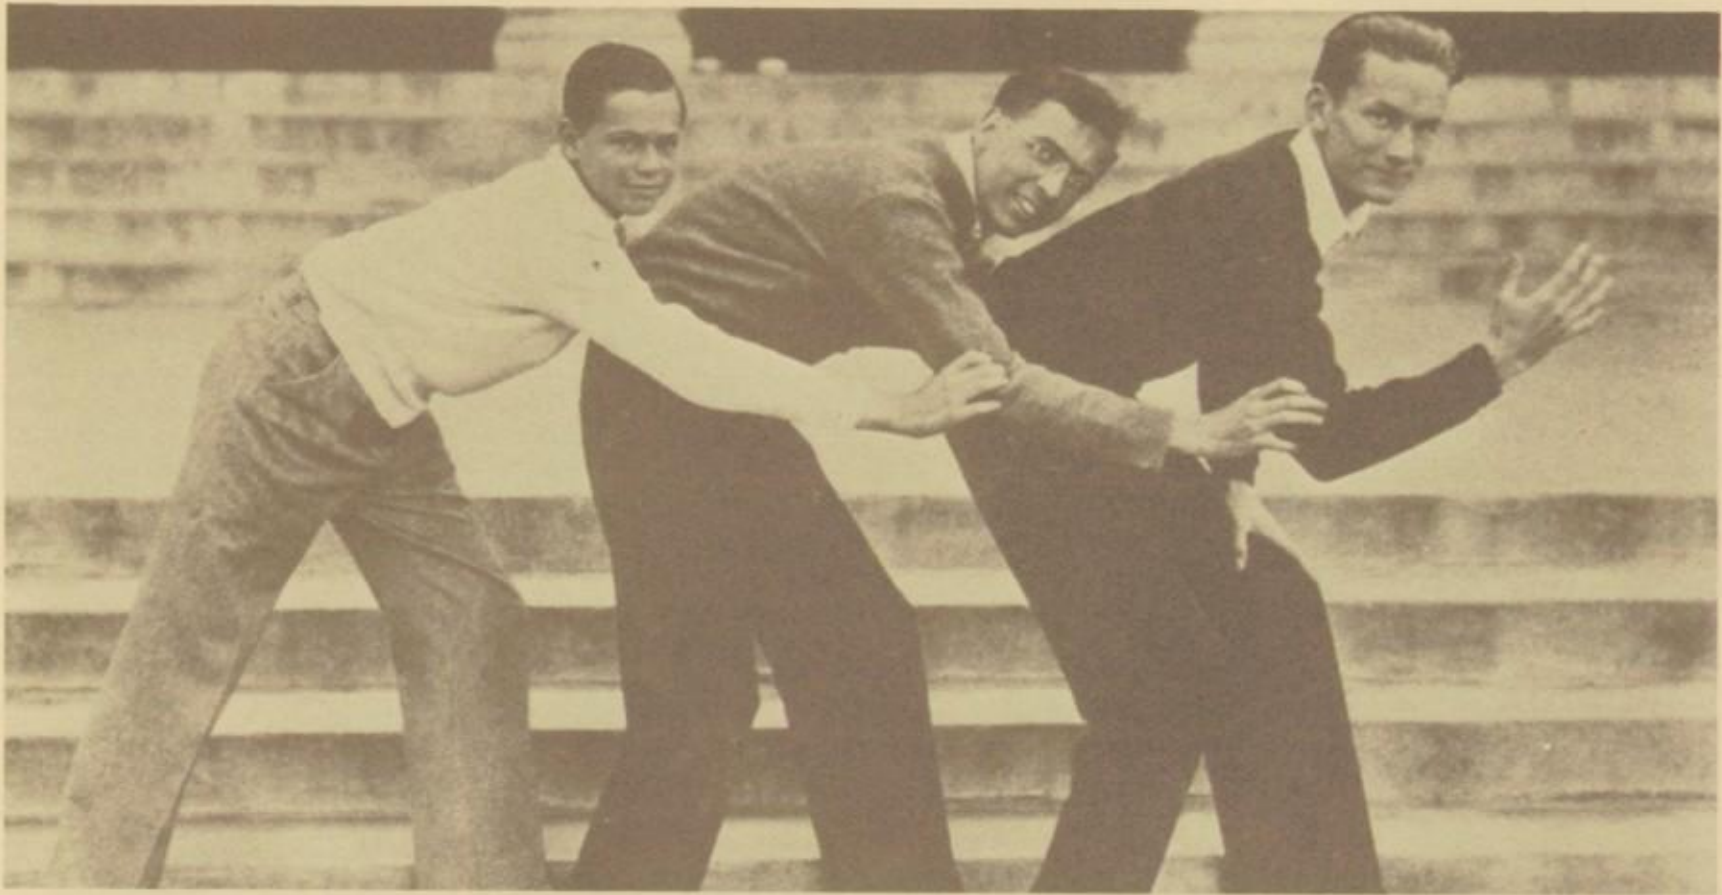

Staff

Oakwood's stadium has changed much in the past few years. She's received a new set of guest bleachers and a new scoreboard. Her cheerleaders, too, are different. In 1934, the first cheerleaders were three boys. The evolution of cheerleaders through the years is really quite amusing and amazing.

Basket Ball Queen, Virginia Herrman

Activities always remain basically the same, though styles may change. We don't keep up the tradition of basketball queen anymore, nor do our homecoming queens pop out of paper footballs. Kids do always have their hangouts, and once the favorite was the Yum-Yum. Parties are still a tradition, though they don't seem as orderly now as previously. And the traditional senior high "Y" open houses still pull large crowds, though we don't dance the Virginia Reel anymore.

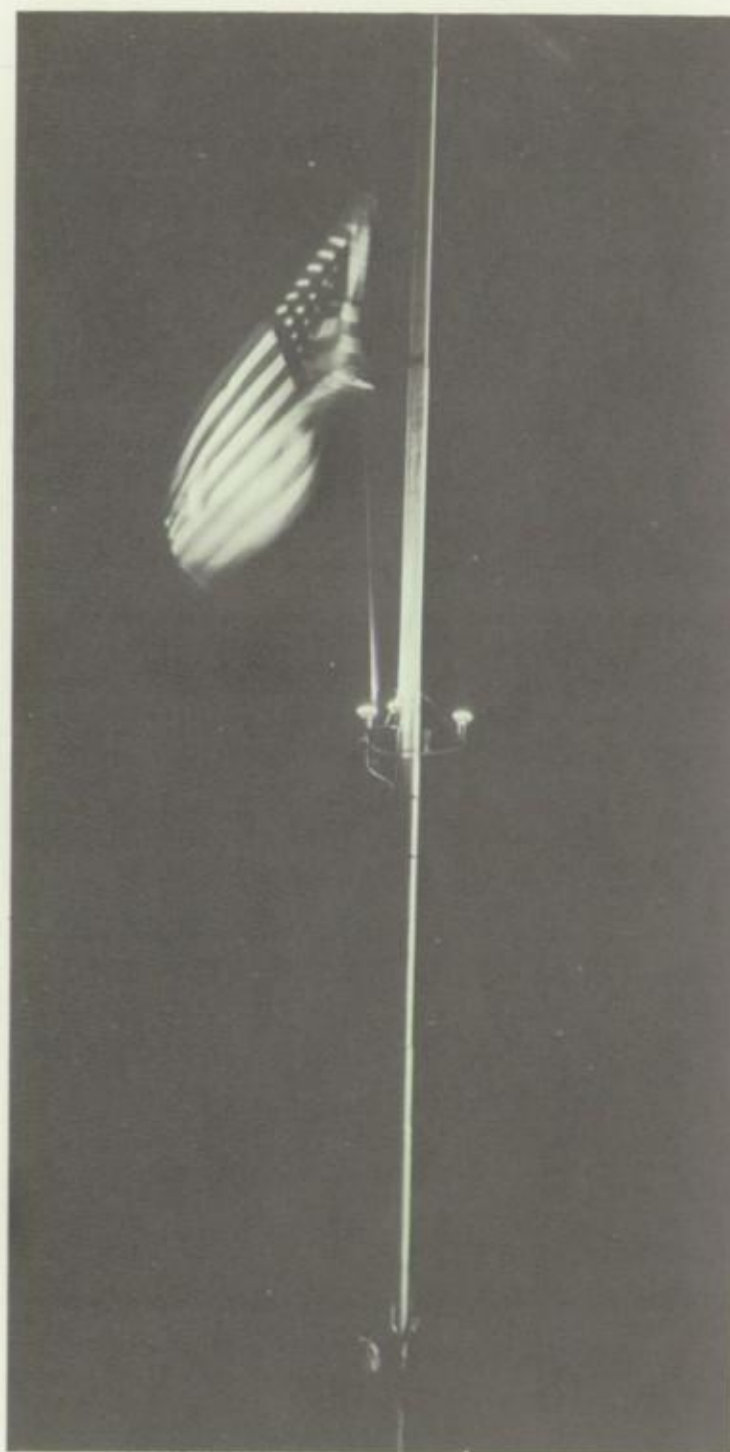

Many fine teachers have donated their time and talents to Oakwood and her students. Mack Hummon, long time math teacher and coach, is now the name of our stadium. Miss Bess Hayner was girls' gym teacher for many years. A much-coveted hockey award commemorates her donation to furthering girls' sports here. Lou K. Weber, an art teacher had a stained glass window donated in her memory.

Many members of the community, too, have given much to our school. The George Shaw Green Memorial Flagpole was presented to the High School for its athletic field by Mrs. Greene on April 24, 1934. It was given in memory of Mr. Green, who was for many years a friend and patron of the Oakwood Schools.

memories of summer past

No matter what the weather dictates, when school starts, summer ends for all practical purposes, and fall begins. Everyone returns from their vacation spots. The football team, Jillettes, and band suffer through the last of the summer practices, and the pools close. Student Council sells activity tickets; cheerleaders get the first of the spirit signs ready for the Centerville game. A satisfying stickball season, perhaps the next-to-last one, draws to a close. And then there is school. Thoughts, however, continue to return for a while to lament on a summer that passed too quickly.

RIGHT: 1. Connie and Deedee chat at D.C.C. while a friend listens in. 2. Dick and George work the summer away while young admirers watch. 3. Bill Cheslock hitches home. 4. It's a long haul up the hill, but tennis players are tough. 5. Slick and Soupy share a private joke at the "Y" pool.

The Class of 1972 opened the school year with varied ideas, opinions, and talents. The student lounge issue was tossed around until revised lounge accommodations were adopted. Students were permitted to choose either a quiet study period or the more permissive and free "noisy" study hall with no faculty supervision. New seventh graders were found wandering endlessly in the halls gazing at the room numbers. The football team had a good year despite the injuries of many fine players. The cross country team also had another of its many great seasons.

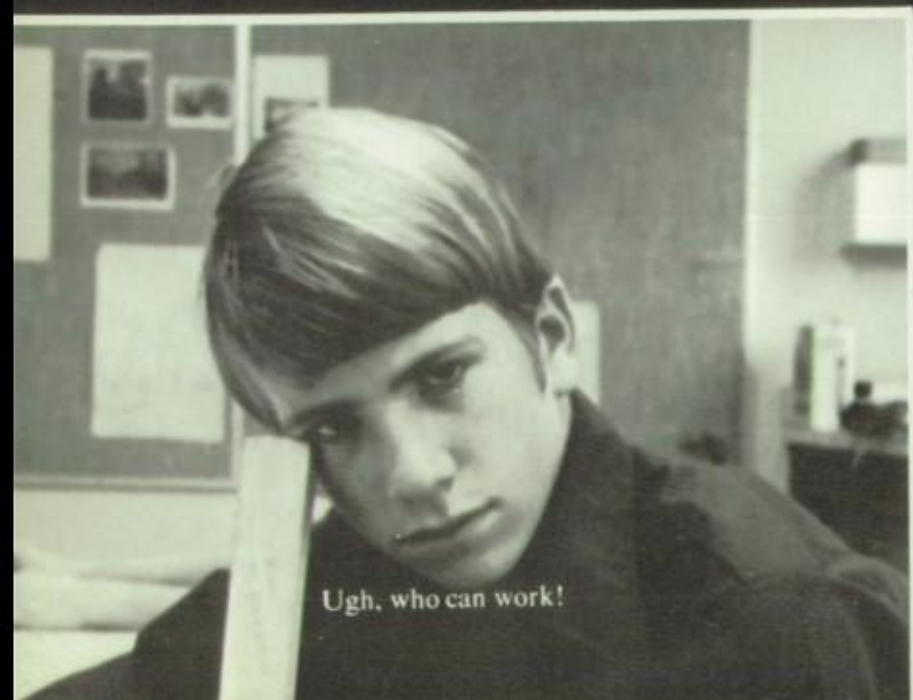

The Jills' hockey team again proved to be tough to beat, as they had an undefeated season and finished first in state competition. The student court, led by head judge Mark Ford, was given more disciplinary cases, and the court was looking forward to a trying year. The senior boys were keeping busy through the many activities of the M.O.B. and J. Hornac, two clubs designed for the betterment of our community. As before, O.H.S. had their booming beginning.

Homecoming has evolved into a weekend which, in addition to welcoming returning alumni, also honors the seniors as they begin their last year at O.H.S. Friday night's game with Trotwood, which ended in a 12-12 tie, was highlighted by the crowning of co-queens Ellen and Cindy. The dance, Saturday night, progressed with the music of the Razzberry Blues. Here are pictures of the events:

Although the band and majorettes lost many graduating band members last year, they seemed to have been able to make up for it this year. Their spirit and sound was generated throughout the stadium during the halftime and pre-game shows.

The band and majorettes had an unusual guest this year at one of their home performances. With the band playing the theme song from the television show Clubhouse 22, it was only natural that Malcom and Duffy surprise the crowd at halftime by making a guest appearance.

The band, Jilletes, and majorettes were all definately a major asset to the school spirit this year.

The Jilletes this year were better than ever. With the use of different props, their halftime shows were unique and facinating. The girls used canes, ballons, and flares.

Combining with the band, they made many different maneuvers, from a showboat wheel to the Statue of Liberty.

Thirteen seniors marched on the corps. Overall it was the most experienced team so far.

Dedicated runners upheld Oakwood's cross country reputation this year. Led by senior Alan Braley, the team had respectable finishes in area meets. For the second consecutive year, Alan won the high-point trophy which is given for points accumulated in high-place finishes. Alan and Mark Stephenson went to the sectional meet, and both qualified for the districts.

The team competed against 74 high schools, defeating 29 of them. Next year promises to be a good one with returning lettermen Mark Stephenson, Dave Frech, Ray Smith, Dan Robertson, and a strong Freshmen team.

Oakwood's Jills completed their season with a perfect 12-0 record. By sweeping a tournament held in Columbus, the team proved to be one of the state's best.

The Jills began the season by sticking their rival Fairmont West with another loss. In successive weeks, they shutout Summitt 4-0, Oxford Talawanda 3-0, Lebanon 6-0, and Northridge 5-0. They coupled these shutouts with consecutive victories over Hillsdale, and Wyoming.

On November 3, they played arch-rival Fairmont East. Spurred on by high-spirited Kay (o.k.) Kennedy's eighteenth birthday, they easily squashed their foe 3-0.

The girl's continued their streak as they returned from Columbus victorious.

Next year, the team will sorely miss star stickers Polly Alexander, Jane Beck, Beth DeWall, Kay Kennedy, Patty Randall, Ellen Sherriff, Robin Taylor, Lynn Walters, and ace-fullback Jamie Wise.

However, players from this year's undefeated reserve team should provide able replacements as they try to continue the success of this year's squad.

The Varsity football team had another fine season this year. The team went 5-4-1, and finished third in the league. Due to injuries to many of the starting players early in the season, such as linebackers Rob Wright, and Phil Hayes, the team was forced to play many inexperienced and young players. Mark Wells and Tom Hocker proved to be a strong and potent backfield. Mark made the all-league team and the all-area team, and Tom made honorable mention in the all-league team. The offensive line, led by Jerry Arnold, Lance Stewart and Ted Reinhart did a good job of opening the holes for our backs. The defense was strong this year, led by Barry Gray, Pete Masse, Bart Sickinger, and Bill Briner.

This was a different year for the Jacks. With only three lettermen returning to the court, many new recruits were needed to fill the gaps left by last year's seniors. The Jacks, lacking experience, ran into trouble on the floor. The season ended with a record 8-10. The statistics, however, don't accurately reflect on the team's performance. Putting a lot of effort into the game, the Jacks always gave the opponents a hard battle. We can be proud of the '71-'72 hoopshooters. Next year's team, hopefully, will compensate for the loss of the four starting seniors Dave Crawl, Steve Kelch, Dave Packard, and Steve Seat, and be able to do as well.

Last year's support for the SWBL champs was hard to match, but the cheerleaders tried their best to equal it by the use of announcements, signs, and pep assemblies. The school responded well as parents, faculty, and students showed their support by coming to the games to help the cheerleaders cheer their team to victory!

The girl's volleyball team had a fine showing this season. Their record was 7-3. The Jills were coached by Jayna Gould and managed by Beth Powell and Lisa Richter.

The basketball team of 1972 looked very promising. The girls practiced every night after school. With such diligent work they were sure to be a success. The coach was Kathy Koogler.

The Oakwood wrestlers were again outstanding this year, finishing the season with a record of 8-2. They won both the Eaton and Oakwood Invitational Tournaments, and placed second in the University of Dayton Invitational. Jon Strawsburg, Dan Howell, Dan Zelick, Randy Zelick, and Mike Millat were S.W.B.L. champions, and the team was second in the league. Unfortunately, Rich Gowdy broke his collarbone and had to end his season early, before the league tournament. Oakwood won the sectionals and is expected to do well in the state tournaments. State and district results will be printed in the supplement.

This year student council tried again to fill the gap between the students and the administration. Not only helping to organize better study halls, they discussed curriculum, civil rights and responsibilities of the student.

The student court this year helped with the problem of discipline. Normally the punishment related to the offense, depending on the case. This system of having students issuing the punishment seemed to be desired more than the punishment of the administration.

With the celebration of the school's 50th anniversary, the Acorn staff has tried to make the yearbook special. More pictures were added, different headlines were used, and the advertisements were changed. These are a few of the many new things done to the yearbook. To commemorate the occasion of the 50th anniversary, a section on the history of the school was also added. The staff this year was bigger with 11 seniors and 4 juniors. Next year the Acorn should be even better with 4 juniors coming back to organize the 72-73 edition.

The Oakleaf this year has not only offended people, but has tried to compliment them as well. Many controversies have risen from the many poignant articles written by the 19 staff members. Not only did the staff managed to publish the paper bi-weekly, but they have also ventured into McLuhanism and media.

Jack's Four

This year's seniors brought something new and different to Oakwood. With Mr. Ballinger's consent and help from many teachers, the class put on a senior talent show. The seniors eagerly put a lot of time and talent into the project and came out with a really good show. The show had its own "Playboy Bunny" chorus line, the famous and talented "Jack's Four", and some "briars" from the Tennessee hills. Larry Marra played a song he composed himself; Barry Dean, Beth Minor, and Chris Lucas sang a few songs, and "Carole King" (Cathy Manhart) made a special appearance during the show. Gary Goetz, the "Senior Spotlight", played the piano, doing a piece by Lennon and McCartney. The show proved to be a great success. The seniors, hopefully, will have started a tradition.

The National Forensic League had a profitable but busy year of fund-raising projects as well as competing in speech tournaments. Along with sponsoring the traditional Student Faculty basketball game, the League held a chicken barbecue dinner before the Parent's Night football game and sold happy face plaques. Oakwood opened the season by hosting the first contest. Little Districts were held this year at Urbana, and

N. F. L. Districts took place traditionally at Ohio University. The League also organized an eighth grade speech contest in the spring in hopes of discovering recruits for next year's league. Lynn Walters was president of the club. Rob Finley was vice president. Jenny Herron was secretary, and Lisa Pretzinger was treasurer.

The Artsy classes combined new techniques, originality, and qualified instructors with fun and came up with a lot of talent. Keeping up with the times, both Mechanical Drawing and Industrial Arts welcomed girls into their workshops. Coed Home ec was also eagerly accepted. All the arts classes are popular among the students. They give each student the chance to expound on his individual interests. Art classes busy themselves with anything from weaving macrame belts to oil painting. Along with making clothes, Home ec students cook their way to becoming regular Betty Crockers. Rings, furniture, chess sets, etc. come out of shop everyday. These creative classes enable the students to express themselves through their works. In these days of self-expression, the artsy classes fit right in.

Political cartoons reflect the mood, views, and subjects deemed important by a people in a given time period or locale. During the 1971-72 school year, many important events occurred at state, national, and world-wide levels to affect the Oakwood student and his life in some way. Citizens felt the shock waves from austerity programs, prison riots, hijackers, publicity-seekers, civil rights projects, and the dock strikes, the dollar freeze, two-China question, Vietnam elections, British-Irish problem, and bussing. All these topics and more added excitement, conflict, and food for thought to our lives this year.

This year the G.A.A. and Varsity O started off on the right foot, mainly following paths of tradition. G.A.A. officers Terry Lawson, Dee Dee Granzow, Jamie Wise, and Sarah Carlson followed Koogie's great ideas and planned a ski trip for all G.A.A. members (hinging on a lasting snow.) Varsity O, under leadership of president George Gibbons and other officers Pete Masse and Jeff Liston managed a great concession stand at basketball games, but had trouble mustering a pep club.

Feiffer's People, the drama class play, was a success; it was a takeoff from his comic strips. The auditorium was full, even though the performance was on a Thursday night. The class shows great promise in being our actors of tomorrow.

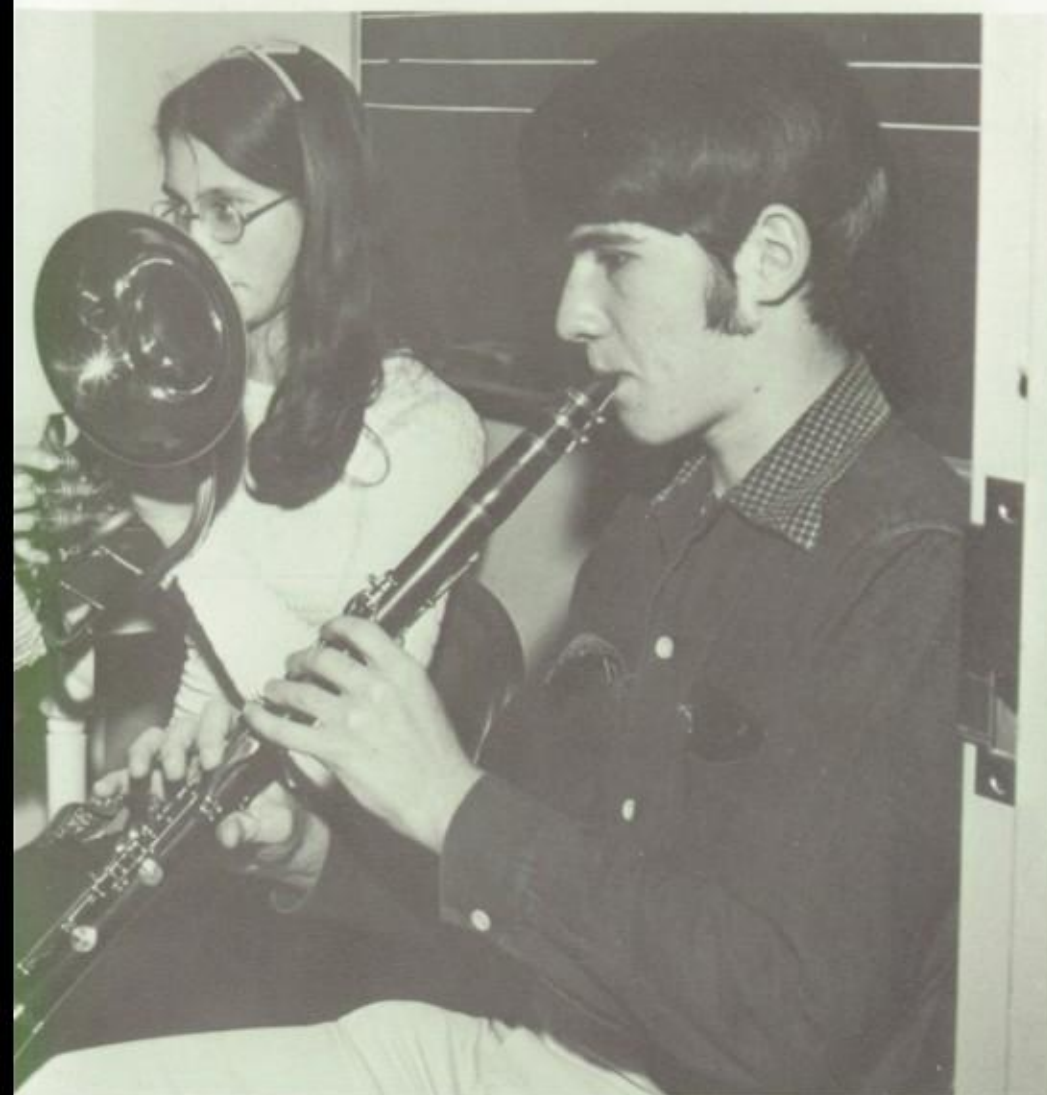

the oakwood band presented music with an international flavor

The Oakwood High School band this year presented for their winter concert, "Music with an International Flavor." The concert was held February 13th in the school auditorium. The band featured seniors Joyce Mote and Larry Marra as soloists. Joyce played a clarinet solo by Alfred Reed and Larry played a guitar solo by Ernesto Lecuona. The concert was directed by Mr. Fred Walker. The music was chosen to give a variety of different types of music around the world.

GERMANY!! The Oakwood High School Band was selected by the Notre Dame band director as one of 16 bands invited to go to Germany this summer and play for the pre-Olympic band ceremonies. Mr. Walker and the band parents held meetings to determine whether or not to go. After a lot of thought, the band accepted the invitation. The band selected 6 Jilletes to accompany them as a flag corps: Terri Cronin, Sue Stansfield, Linda Lawson, Jenny Wallace, Karen Goodman, and Jill Ungard.

The band will land in Amsterdam, Netherlands or Frankfurt, Germany on August 13th. They will then visit such cities as Cologne, East and West Berlin, Mainz, Munich, Wiesbaden, Nurnberg, Heidelberg, and Brussels, Belgium. The band will not just play during the trip, they will also be touring throughout the two weeks. They will be playing at the Olympic city Munich. Hopefully they will see some of the sites where the Olympics will take place.

The band has planned many things to raise money. Paper drives, bake sales, car washes, and other things will help get them to Germany.

The Oakwood Band is the only band that was invited in the Dayton Area. This is quite an honor and we all wish the band good luck and a safe trip to Germany!

“sing your own special song . . . ”

While various activities occupied students in the whole year, a number of students, seventh graders through seniors, chose to develop their musical talents; and they participated in one or more of the ten vocal music groups. Directed by Mr. Glenn Uhl, who has headed the department for eighteen years, the three choirs and seven ensembles presented the traditional Christmas and Spring Concerts for the community. Meanwhile the Swing Choir had several opportunities to share the musical abilities with others outside of Oakwood. This group sang Christmas carols at Dayton State Hospital, as well as performing for the Dayton Women's Club.

The Senior High Choir elected officers in the fall to assist Mr. Uhl. The president was Preston Crabill; vice-president, Randy Buck; secretary, Marion Hubler; and librarians, Heidi Albrecht and Gary Goetz.

RECAP...

The headline is misleading really. It's impossible to recapture an entire fall and winter. What was important to one person means nothing to another. Each has his own priorities; and for each person the year will be remembered for different reasons. Often it is not the big events that recall the certain character of a year. It is some thing small like a song or smell or an expression that brings a sudden desire for the past. Memory has a way of keeping the good and forgetting the bad. There was a lot of good to remember in '71-'72.

get high on life

The class of '72 shared many different and new experiences. Highlighted by the theme "Get High on Life", the year passed quickly as the seniors had great times which ended six years of friendships, studies, and activities.

Memories include such events as "Bourbon Street", Beachcombers, Homecoming, and "A Christmas Fireside." No one will ever forget Mr. Price's senior English and such famous lines as "Whan that Aprille . . ." and "To be, or not to be . . .", or Big Daddy Slick's chemistry class.

Both the football and basketball teams did well, and the wrestlers, hockey players, and tennis stars were successful and achieved many personal honors. The Jilletes and band implemented the spirit the varsity cheerleaders and pep club produced.

Open houses, homework, SAT's, the grind of study halls, weekend parties, and college applications were only memories as the class of 1972 marched down the aisle at Graduation to receive diplomas.

The class of 1973 showed great interest in their school as the members participated in various activities like drama, speech, choir, and band. Seventeen members were inducted into National Honor Society; while most students got a taste of college boards with National Merit and PSAT Tests. The Dacs came back to win the boys' intramural football championship, and all the juniors will long remember Beachcombers Ball. Class officers: Bill Lambert, president; Marcy Sherriff, vice president; Carolyn Beyer, secretary; and Jenny Clark, treasurer.

As freshmen, the class reigned over the junior high, attended J. A. dances, and helped select their courses for future years. The hockey team was undefeated. The Frosh look like a promising plus for the senior high.

Hidden Valley Lake

Hidden Valley Lake, where gentle mountains covered with tall and stately trees surround a four and a half mile lake of crystal clear water. Coursing through this natural forest are paved private streets ending in cul-de-sacs. This beautiful resort community has central sewer and water systems and both telephone and electricity are underground to preserve the natural beauty of this place. Hidden Valley Lake provides year round fun with many recreational facilities including boating, swimming, golf, tennis and other outdoor activities. For a time of your life, visit Hidden Valley Lake, located on Route 50 West and the Ohio/Indiana State Line Road.

All but Lisa, Marcy and Tom

The 1972 Acorn staff would like to thank everyone who helped to make the yearbook a success. Schwabe Studio, John Maynard, and the art department provided photography. Mr. Gary Mitchner was our general advisor, Mr. James Romick served as financial advisor, and Miss Ester Crissman contributed her time as a general help and moral supporter. Thanks also go to Mr. Ballinger and the faculty who had classes interrupted more than occasionally for pictures.

The seniors wish a GOOD LUCK to next year's staff! They'll need it!

We are riding on a railroad singing someone else's song

We are standing by the crossroads take

We are sailing away on a river to the sea

Maybe you and me will meet again.
